A. Oversight

A1. LEVY AND BUDGET APPROVAL

POLICY:

The Park Ridge Public Library is a municipal library. Illinois Local Library Act, 75 ILCS 5, dictates that the tax levy for municipal libraries must be channeled through the corporate authority. Therefore, the Library's tax levy request to fund operating and capital expenditures is submitted annually to the Park Ridge City Council, for final approval. This process requires the Library to transmit all budget and levy documents to the City for inclusion in the City's budget materials.

RULES:

1. The Library maintains Board approved line item budget.
2. Expenditures may not exceed appropriations at the fund level.
3. The budget is developed annually as a cooperative process between the Library Board, the Director, and additional staff members with responsibility for specific line items.
4. The overall responsibility for the assumptions and timely preparation of materials and presentations throughout the process rests with the Library Director.
5. Changes to the approved budget may be made mid-year.
 - a. The Library Director may transfer funds into or out of budget lines, not to exceed a cumulative amount of $5,000. The Library Director must notify the Board when transfers are authorized at the next regularly scheduled Board meeting.
 - b. Transfers into or out of line items of more than $5,000 require the approval of the Library Board.
 - c. Library Administration may develop proposed budget carry forwards for the Board's consideration at the onset of the new fiscal year.
 - d. Budgetary changes that require supplemental funding resulting in a budget amendment, require the approval of the Library Board, and ultimately, the Park Ridge City Council.

A2. LIBRARY FUND

POLICY:

The Board of Trustees will maintain adequate reserves in the Library Fund to support operations in the event that revenues are not realized or expenditures exceed expectations.

RULES:

1. The Board will review the Financial Report at each of their regular monthly meetings. The Library Director will keep the Board informed on issues that affect the Library Fund, and particularly when there may not be adequate funds available to maintain operations.
2. The Library Fund exists to fund Library operations and capital expenses.
3. All unspent funds from the annual operating budget will remain in the Library Fund.
4. Throughout the fiscal year, the Library shall have a goal of maintaining a fund balance of at least six months of operating expenses. If reserves exceed twelve months, the Library Board should develop a plan for deficit spending to achieve the six-month reserve target.

A5. INVESTMENTS

POLICY:

Responsibilities

All investment policies and procedures of the Park Ridge Public Library (PRPL) will be in accordance with Illinois Law. The authority of the Library Board to control and invest public funds is defined in the Illinois Public Funds Investment Act (30 ILCS 235/1) and the investments permitted are described therein. Administration and execution of these policies are the responsibility of the Treasurer, and by designation the Library Director acting under the authority of the Board.

RULES:

“Prudent Person” Standard

The standard of care applicable to investment of PRPL funds is the “prudent person” standard of care. Using this standard, investments shall be made with judgement and care, under circumstances then prevailing, which persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not for speculation, but for investment, considering the probable safety of their capital as well as the possible income to be derived. When acting in accordance with this standard of care and exercising due diligence, the Treasurer and other persons authorized by the Board, shall be relieved of personal responsibility for any investment credit risk, market price, or value change, provided that deviations from expectations are reported to the Board in a timely fashion, and appropriate action is taken to control adverse developments.

The Board shall seek to earn a reasonable rate of return on investments consistent with this policy. The Board will monitor at each regularly scheduled Board meeting the status of investments, fund balances and accounts.

Objectives and Guidelines

It is the Board’s policy to place funds outside of the Library’s operating account in relatively risk-averse assets that will provide the highest return possible while meeting the cash flow demands of PRPL and conforming to statutes governing the investment of public funds. In selecting financial institutions and investment instruments to be used, the following general objectives and guidelines should be considered in the order listed:

1. Legality and Safety

Investments in bonds or securities will be made only in bonds or securities guaranteed by the U.S. government or in FDIC insured institutions. Deposit accounts in banks or savings and loan institutions will not exceed $250,000, the amount insured under FDIC coverage, unless they are adequately collateralized.

Authorized investments include and will primarily consist of: interest-bearing Money Market accounts, Certificates of Deposit, Treasury Bills and other securities guaranteed by the U.S. Government, and any other investments allowed under state law that satisfy the investment objectives of PRPL.

2. Liquidity - Maintenance of sufficient liquidity to meet current obligations

The types and lengths of investments should be managed to ensure that PRPL is able to meet the cash flow requirements for ongoing operations and capital expenditures.

3. Yield

Within the constraints of Illinois law and this investment policy, every effort should be made to maximize return on investments. All available funds will be placed in investments or kept in interest bearing deposit accounts at all times.

4. Simplicity of management

The Treasurer, Director and other designated administrative staff must be able to manage PRPL investments effectively and efficiently within time constraints imposed by other responsibilities and the limitations imposed by their respective levels of financial expertise.

Signatories

Library Administration, namely the Library Director and Finance & Administrative Services Manager, will be signatories on all investment accounts within the Library's control.

Execution

The Treasurer, working with Library Administration, will bring forth recommendations for new investments or changes to current investment accounts through the Budget and Finance Committee. The Library Board of Trustees will vote on a final recommendation. Library Administration will execute the Board's approved recommendation in a timely and expeditious manner.

Reporting and Monitoring

Investments, fund balances, and the status of such accounts will be reported at each regularly scheduled meeting of the Board of Library Trustees. This policy shall be reviewed at least every three years for any needed modifications. The Treasurer will report to the Board of Library Trustees on the investment portfolio, its effectiveness in meeting the Library's need for safety, liquidity, rate of return, diversification and general performance.

Internal Controls

A system of procedures and Internal Controls shall be established by the Treasurer or Board of Trustees or governing body of the fund which at a minimum includes standards set by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board.

Collateralization and Safekeeping

Deposits in excess of FDIC insurable limits must be secured by collateral or private insurance. Eligible collateral instruments are any investment instruments acceptable under the Illinois Public Funds Investment Act. The collateral must be placed in safekeeping at or before the time the PRPL makes the investment. Third party safekeeping is required for all collateral. To accomplish this, the securities serving as collateral must be held at one or more of the following locations: (1) a Federal Reserve Bank or its branch office; (2) another custodial facility in a trust or safekeeping department through book-entry at the Federal Reserve; (3) an escrow agent of the pledging institutions; or (4) the trust department of the issuing bank. Safekeeping will be documented by an approved written agreement that complies with FDIC regulations. Substitution or exchange of collateral held in safekeeping for PRPL is allowed, only if the market value of the replacement collateral is equal to or greater than that of the collateral being replaced.

Diversification

The Library shall diversify its investments to the best of its ability based on the type of funds invested and the cash flow needs for those funds. Diversification can be by type of investment, number of institutions, and/or length of maturity.

Authorized Financial Institutions

Financial institutions shall be considered and authorized only by action of the Board, upon the recommendation of the Treasurer. Library Administration will maintain a list of institutions authorized to provide investment services to PRPL. Any financial institution selected by PRPL shall provide normal banking services, including but not limited to: checking accounts, money market accounts, wire transfers, and safekeeping services. PRPL will not keep funds in any financial institution that is not a member of the FDIC.

Ethics and Conflicts of Interest

Trustees and employees involved in the investment process shall not engage in personal business activity that could conflict with the proper execution and management of this policy, or that could impair their ability to make impartial decisions. Trustees, employees and investment officials shall disclose any material interests in financial institutions with which they conduct business. They shall further disclose any personal financial/investment positions that could be related to performance of the investment portfolio. Except as permitted under the Public Officer Prohibited Act (50 ILCS 105/3.2) no trustee or employee involved in the investment process shall have any interest, or receive any compensation from, any investments of PRPL, or the sellers, sponsors of managers of those investments.

Financial and Investment Service Providers

Investment advisors, money managers, and similar service providers may be engaged on an as-needed basis by action of the Board. This process will be designed and coordinated by the Director and Treasurer.

A8. CAPITAL ASSETS

POLICY:

The Park Ridge Public Library (the "Library") maintains a fixed asset ledger for the capitalization of assets. Properties are examined for approximate value and all items judged to be of sufficient worth are included in the inventory. The purpose of this policy is to provide control and accountability over capital assets, and to gather and maintain information needed for the preparation of financial statements. The Park Ridge Public Library capital asset policy is herein established to safeguard assets and to insure compliance with GASB34 for governmental financial reporting.

RULES:

1. Inventory

Responsibility for control of capital assets will rest with the operating department wherein the asset is located. The Park Ridge Public Library shall ensure that such control is maintained by establishing an inclusive capital asset inventory schedule. Asset purchases, which fall below the capitalization threshold, will not be included in the capital asset inventory.

2. Definition of a Fixed Asset

Capital Assets are major assets that have a presence in more than a single accounting period. They include such items as land, buildings, furnishings and equipment, and vehicles. The Library will use the following capital asset categories when accounting for capital assets:

- A. Land
- B. Construction in Process
- C. Works of Art
- D. Buildings
- E. Machinery and Equipment
- F. Office Furniture
- G. Vehicles
- H. Books and Library Materials

3. Valuing Capital Assets

Capital assets should be valued at cost or historical costs, plus those costs necessary to place the asset in its location (i.e. freight, installation charges.) In the absence of historical costs information, a realistic estimate will be used. Donated assets will be recorded at the estimated current fair market value.

4. Capitalizing

When to Capitalize Assets:

Assets are capitalized at the time of acquisition. To be considered a capital asset for financial reporting purposes an item must be at or above the capitalization threshold and have a useful life of at least one year.

Assets not Capitalized:

Capital assets below the capitalization threshold on a unit basis but warranting "control" shall be inventoried at the department level and an appropriate list will be maintained.

Capital Assets should be capitalized if they meet the following criteria:

- Tangible
- Useful life of more than one year (benefit more than a single fiscal period)
- Cost exceeds designated threshold

5. Park Ridge Public Library may have the following major classes of assets:

- A. Land and Inexhaustible Land Improvements – Capitalized value is to include the purchase price plus costs such as legal fees and filing fees; improvements such as excavation work, preparation of land for construction, landscaping.

- E. Office Furniture – Assets included in this category are office furniture.
- F. Vehicles – Costs include purchase price plus costs such as title & registration.
- G. Books and Library Materials – Book and Material assets include all items that are purchased for loan to patrons. All physical library material is capitalized as a single addition as opposed to individual purchases.

6. Depreciation

Depreciation is computed on a straight-line method with depreciation computed on a monthly basis from the month of acquisition. Additions and improvements will only be capitalized if the cost either enhances the asset's functionality or extends the asset's useful life.

Estimated Useful Lives

	Useful Life	Capitalization Threshold

Works of Art	N/A	$10,000
Buildings	50 years	$50,000

A15. GIFTS OF REAL PROPERTY

POLICY:

The Park Ridge Public Library may accept gifts of real property when it is determined that such gifts will benefit the Library. All gifts are accepted at the discretion of the Library Director and the Board of Trustees as specified in the rules.

RULES:

1. The Library shall not accept any real estate encumbered by a mortgage or other liens except when approved by the Board based on a recommendation by the Library Director.
2. The Library will be sensitive to the long-term cost of owning the property, including the distribution of maintenance money.
3. The Library will not accept gifts of real property that are difficult to manage or are encumbered with defects that could put the Library at risk once the Library is in the chain of title.
4. The Library will not accept gifts of real property that require environmental cleanup or any other environmental liability except for situations where acceptance of such an interest would present an extraordinary benefit for the Library.
5. Gifts of real property may be outright gifts, bargain sales (i.e., part sale/part gift transactions) or part of a charitable life income plan (i.e., a gift held in trust with a life income to the donor).
6. The Library may accept gifts with a retained life use but generally only if the life tenant agrees to pay for all ongoing carrying costs, including but not limited to real estate taxes, upkeep, insurance, maintenance and repairs to the property and utilities. The gift agreement for a retained life use shall contain the stipulation that if the life tenant defaults on the payment of these carrying costs, the retained life tenancy ceases.
7. It is the general policy of the Library not to accept partial or fractional gifts in real property except for the situations where acceptance of such an interest would present an extraordinary benefit for the Library.
8. Where real property is being conveyed to the Library, every effort will be made to take the property free of any encumbrances such as possibilities of reverter to the donor's heirs if the property is no longer used for Library purposes. Reverter or other restrictive use clauses could lead to the real property reverting to the heirs of the donor with no compensation to the Library. The Library attorney will be consulted about the best course of action if such clauses are to be included in the property deeds. If the Library decides to accept a gift of real property with a reverter clause, the Library may request that the prospective donor agree that the Library will be entitled to be reimbursed for any of the carrying costs of the real property, including but not limited to, property insurance, repairs and maintenance while the Library holds title to the property. If the donor declines to accept these terms, the Library must determine if it is in the best interests of the Library to accept the gift and agree to pay these carrying costs.
9. The Library Board of Trustees may decline any gift or bequest.

DONATION PROCESS:

As donations and gifts vary in their impact on the Library, the review process will be tailored to the proposal's complexity. The donor should meet with the Library Director at the earliest possible time to discuss the review process for the specific gift. The process of establishing the Library's interest in accepting a gift of real estate shall begin with the initial gathering of basic information by the Library Director, including but not limited to: description of the property, current real estate tax bills, and statement of whether the gift is of a partial or complete interest.

Library staff will review land use requirements, legal requirements, potential public concern, maintenance issues and Library issues associated with the proposed gift. If it is determined that the Library could potentially benefit from this donation of real property, the Library will request additional information to be provided by the donor at the donor's expense, including but not limited to: legal description, survey showing easements and right-of-ways, environmental hazard assessment, proof of ownership in the form of a title policy or title report, and any other information needed to determine liability risks or unacceptable restrictions on use or disposition of the real property. If the donor declines to provide at their cost the documents required to perform the necessary due diligence and to close on the property, and the Library Director, with Board approval, determines that it is in the best interests of the Library to further advancement of the gift by paying these costs, the Library Board shall review the matter at a regularly scheduled Board meeting.

After the Library Director receives all information, they will evaluate the gift's potential and make a recommendation to the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees will vote on whether or not to accept a gift of real property at a regularly scheduled Board Meeting.

4. Video data is recorded and stored digitally. Recorded data will be treated as confidential and secure. Access to live feeds of images and recorded video data will be limited to authorized Library staff designated by the Library Director.
5. Confidentiality and privacy issues may limit the general public from viewing security camera footage that contains personally identifying information about library users or the circulation records of library users. All requests for disclosure of recorded images, except as stated above for law enforcement purposes, shall be made in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act, and submitted to the Library Director.
6. The Library may use a still shot or selected portions of recorded data to request law enforcement review for assessing the security risk of a specific individual or for investigating a crime on Library property. Law enforcement officials or agencies may be provided access to the recorded data when allowed under the law, such as pursuant to a court order, upon giving a sworn statement of imminent danger of physical harm, or as otherwise permitted by law. Recorded data will be accorded the same level of confidentiality and protection provided to library patrons by Illinois state law and the Library's policies.

The latter shall be retained for one year after the incident or until such time as any matters pertaining to the recording have been resolved, or for any length of time as required by an applicable litigation hold letter. The storage media shall be kept in a secure area. At the Library Director's discretion, stored still images may be shared with staff library-wide.
9. A copy of this policy will be shared with any patron or staff member upon request. This policy shall be posted on Library's website. The Park Ridge Public Library disclaims any liability for use of the video data in accordance with the terms of this policy.

POLICY:

The Park Ridge Public Library respects the right to privacy of patrons with regard to information contained on applications for library cards as well as circulation records in accordance with the Illinois Library Records Confidentiality Act (75ILSC 70/1).

There are several limited exceptions, which permit or require the Library to disclose information under the Federal Electronic Communication Privacy Act and/or the USA Patriot Act.

RULES:

2. Only the Library Director, or designated department managers are authorized to disclose this information as required by law.
3. There are several limited exceptions which permit or even require the Library to voluntarily disclose certain electronic communications under the Federal Electronic Communication Privacy Act. This law permits the Library in certain circumstances to disclose the contents of certain electronic communications, such as email, temporary Internet files, and other content transmitted, received, viewed, downloaded or printed on a Library computer. Authorized staff (see above) may divulge the contents of an electronic communication:

If law enforcement asks the Library to retain electronic communications in storage (such as on the computer hard drive, disk or other storage medium), it must preserve such communications for at least 90 days following the request, and for an additional 90 days if the request is being renewed. The Library will require the appropriate legal process before providing access to preserved communications.

4. The USA Patriot Act contains a voluntary exception for emergency situations. Under this exception, if any Library personnel reasonably believe that an emergency involving immediate danger of death or serious physical injury to any person justifies the disclosure of certain information; such information may be disclosed to a law enforcement agency.

COLLECTION MANAGEMENT GUIDELINES

The mission of the Park Ridge Public Library is to be a trusted community partner that engages and strengthens its community by fostering personal growth in learning by providing opportunities to connect, inform, innovate and grow.

In order to achieve this mission, the Library purchases and makes available informational and recreational materials and resources. The Library also provides access to items through interlibrary loan and the OCLC international catalog to fill needs unmet by our own collection.

The selection and weeding of materials and resources is an ongoing task that is conducted by the professional staff (i.e., staff with a Master's Degree in Library Science) in the Youth and Adult Services departments.

Selection

The following guidelines have been developed by those departments in order to provide specific criteria for selection and weeding of materials according to the Library's Collection Management policy. These guidelines and the professional judgment of staff determine what materials are selected and weeded.

The Library Director in consultation with professional staff shall develop and implement the selection process using the criteria listed below:

- community demand
- published peer reviews
- authority and accuracy of content
- availability from reliable library vendors and distributors
- existing library resources in the subject area
- ownership and demand at nearby public libraries
- media and critical attention
- space
- cost
- physical durability of the item

All criteria need not be met for acquisition and can vary based on individual titles, formats, languages and age levels.

Weeding

An attractive, current, and useful collection shall be maintained through a continual discarding of materials. Materials may be removed from the collection due to a variety of factors, including but not limited to, deteriorated appearance, inaccurate or outdated information, space constraints, unneeded duplicates, obsolete format or lack of circulation. Materials removed from the collection may be donated to Friends of the Park Ridge Library, local non-profit groups, sent to book recycling/selling organizations, or discarded at the discretion of the Director.

Each department is responsible for conducting on-going reevaluation of its collections according to departmental guidelines developed for that purpose. It is the goal of the Library to complete a general reevaluation of every collection in 2 year cycles.

Material formats will be evaluated based on the following criteria: use, availability, ability to replace, currency and availability of supporting equipment, space requirements.

ELECTRONIC COLLECTION

Electronic content for children is increasingly being developed and changes frequently. The Youth Services electronic collection encompasses online resources that are intended for children from infant to grade 5.

Databases

Children's databases are intended to be used for homework assignments, information gathering, education and entertainment. These resources serve to complement, supplement, or replace content in the print collection. Subscriptions include databases that supplement school assignments and curriculum, subscriptions that provide access to eBooks, and online book content for youth and resources for Readers Advisory.

Selection: Youth Services purchases and evaluates databases on an annual basis in conjunction with the Reference department to review resources that are of interest to both adults and children. Reviews from professional journals and online sources, demonstrations from vendors, and patron demand are considered when purchasing premium resources. Databases are added and retained based on subject matter, search features, ease of use, remote access, price and interest in the community.

Weeding: Contracts are evaluated annually. Usage statistics, price, availability of other resources, and usability are considered when determining if a contract will be renewed.

eBooks

We provide access to electronic editions of print materials for youth as eBooks and audiobooks. Our Three main providers are OverDrive, Axis 360 and Hoopla. Youth Services curates a small collection of items for children and teens using OverDrive Advantage and Axis 360 Unbound. Additionally, a large selection of OverDrive titles are available and curated by the North Suburban Digital Consortium (NSDC). Axis 360 contains additional titles through our participation in the eRead Illinois program. Finally, the Library also has a Hoopla subscription which contains a vendor curated collection of eBooks, audiobooks, video content, and emagazines.

Selection: Factors used for purchase of titles include: patron requests, holds ratios, circulation patterns with physical items in the collection and professional reviews.

Weeding: Some titles purchased through OverDrive and Axis 360 are a permanent part of the Library's collection as long as our relationship with OverDrive remains intact. Some titles are licensed for a specific number of uses and then will need to be evaluated to determine whether or not they will be replaced. Titles may be withdrawn or replaced as licensing agreements expire or when they are no longer used by patrons.

TEEN LOFT COLLECTION

School Collection

This small but strong collection consists of multiple copies of titles studied in local middle schools during the school year and throughout the summer. Titles are purchased by the Teen Services Librarian.

Selection: All the titles in this collection are duplicated. The number of copies purchased is often based on the number of student requests. Mainstream and professional journals are rarely used for selection in this collection. Input by local teachers, student requests, and lists of award-winning books (e.g., Caudill) are utilized by selectors.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Titles are added and deleted from this collection as the curriculum changes.

Fiction

This core collection provides fiction materials in a variety of formats, including Large Print audiobook, eBook, and Playaway, for students between sixth and ninth grades. There is some overlap with the Youth and High School collections, as readers transition from one area to the other. These materials are housed in the Teen Loft.

Selection: Titles are purchased by the Teen Services librarians and appeal to both the recreational reading habits of teenagers as well as to school reading needs. Purchases are made to ensure a diverse collection, by and about a wide array of people and cultures to authentically reflect a variety of ideas, information, stories, and experiences.

Because of space constraints, most titles in the collection are not duplicated. However, at least two copies of high profile, popular titles are purchased. Duplicates are purchased in response to patron holds at a ratio of one copy per three holds. Mass market paperback copies and hardcover copies of the same title are shelved together. Some titles are duplicated in the children's collection. All sources are used for selection. Titles are purchased from journals, publisher catalogs and vendors.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Special care is taken to preserve award-winning titles (Caudill, Printz, etc.). Emphasis is on keeping the collection relevant, diverse, and current.

Graphic Novels

This collection features fiction and non-fiction graphic novels in a variety of genres. There is some overlap with the Children's Graphic Novel collection as readers transition from one area to the other.

Selection: There is little to no duplication among titles in this collection. Shelving space is limited and the level of patron demand for individual titles may warrant the purchase of additional copies. All sources are used for selection. Publishers' catalogs and requests from young adult patrons are particularly helpful. Purchases are made to ensure a diverse collection, by and about a wide array of people and cultures to authentically reflect a variety of ideas, information, stories, and experiences.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Graphic novels are prone to damage due to their construction/binding. Weeding occurs when items are worn or lost. Maintaining the continuity of a series will be taken into consideration during the weeding process.

Manga

Selection: Manga books are rarely published as stand-alone entities – they are nearly always part of a series. Every attempt is made to purchase all volumes in a series. With that said, because there are so many volumes in manga series titles, staff must be selective as to what series to purchase for the collection. Series titles purchased represent many genres – from fantasy to romance to action. Titles purchased are rated E for Everyone, Y for Youth (10+), or T for Teen (geared toward readers that are 13 years of age and older). More mature titles are reserved for the High School Manga Collection.

No specific volumes in a series are duplicated in the Middle School Manga Collection. There is a priority of providing more series than providing multiple copies of existing volumes in a series. All sources are used for selection. Publishers' catalogs and requests from teen patrons are particularly helpful.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Weeding occurs when items are worn or lost. Maintaining the continuity of a series will be taken into consideration during the weeding process.

Nonfiction

This core browsing collection provides nonfiction materials in a variety of formats, including audiobook, eBook, and Playaway, for students between sixth and ninth grades. There is some overlap with the Youth and High School collections, as readers transition from one area to the other. These materials are housed in the Teen Loft.

Selection: Titles are geared toward the casual or reluctant reader. Subjects that are covered by this collection are both recreational and informational in tone. Reference titles are considered, but the collection as a whole should serve as a popular collection more than a reference one.

No duplication occurs in this collection, unless a title has also been purchased by the Reference Department for the Adult Nonfiction Collection. There is limited space available in the Teen Loft for these titles. All sources are used for selection. Adult nonfiction titles that have crossover appeal for young adults are also considered for purchase, but selectors will attempt to avoid duplication.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. As with other nonfiction collections at the Library, as certain subjects become less popular among patrons, titles in those areas may become candidates for withdrawal

Loft Video Games

This high-circulating collection features titles that are appropriate for a teen audience and is housed in the Young Adult Loft. Titles are rated E for Everyone or T for Teen.

Selection: Every attempt is made to have a well-rounded video game collection that appeals to a variety of interests and video game players. With that in mind, games range from sports and adventure to puzzles and dancing. Titles are purchased for various platforms based on currency and patron demand. Duplication may occur across platforms. Titles are selected based on patron requests and strong reviews in print and online sources.

Weeding: Items are withdrawn due to damage or wear or to satisfy space constraints.

Teen Magazines

A small collection of magazines targeted toward middle and high school patrons are housed in the Teen Loft.

Selection: Titles are selected for leisure reading rather than reference. Titles are retained for one year and all backlist copies circulate. The most current issue does not circulate. There is no duplication of subscriptions within this collection. All sources are considered for selection, but patron requests are particularly helpful in determining what to purchase.

Weeding: Items in this collection are weeded when they are damaged or lost. Replacements are not purchased. Back issues are retained for up to six months.

HIGH SCHOOL COLLECTION

Fiction

This collection of fiction titles in a variety of formats, including Large Print, audiobook, eBook, and Playaways, is targeted at students between ninth and twelfth grades. There is some overlap with the Middle School collections, as readers transition from one area to the other.

Selection: Titles are purchased by the Teen Services librarians and appeal to the recreational reading habits of teenagers as well as to school reading needs. Purchases are made to ensure a diverse collection, by and about a wide array of people and cultures to authentically reflect a variety of ideas, information, stories, and experiences.

Duplication occurs infrequently in this collection, except for titles that are assigned for school reading. All sources are used for selection, but local high school and summer reading lists are referenced annually.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Because this collection has a high rate of circulation as well as limited space, titles that may not usually be weeded, including items that have not circulated for six months or one year, may be considered for withdrawal. Special care is taken to preserve award-winning titles (Caudill, Printz, etc.). When weeding, the emphasis is on keeping the collection relevant, diverse, and current.

Graphic Novels

This collection features fiction and non-fiction graphic novels in a variety of genres. There is some overlap with the Middle School Graphic Novel collection as readers transition from one area to the other.

Selection: There is little to no duplication among titles in this collection. Shelving space is limited and the level of patron demand for individual titles does may warrant the purchase of additional copies. All sources are used for selection. Publishers' catalogs and requests from high school patrons are particularly helpful. Purchases are made to ensure a diverse collection, by and about a wide array of people and cultures to authentically reflect a variety of ideas, information, stories, and experiences.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Graphic novels are prone to damage due to their construction/binding. Weeding occurs when items are worn or lost. Maintaining the continuity of a series will be taken into consideration during the weeding process.

Selection: Manga books are rarely published as stand-alone entities – they are nearly always part of a series. Every attempt is made to purchase all volumes in a series. Because there are so many volumes in manga series titles, staff must be selective as to what series to purchase for the collection. Series titles purchased represent many genres – from fantasy to romance to action.

No specific volumes in a series are duplicated in the Middle School Manga Collection. There is a priority of providing more series than providing multiple copies of existing volumes in a series. All sources are used for selection. Publishers' catalogs and requests from teen patrons are particularly helpful.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Weeding occurs when items are worn or lost. Maintaining the continuity of a series will be taken into consideration during the weeding process.

Nonfiction

This core browsing collection provides nonfiction materials in a variety of formats, including audiobook, eBook, and Playaway, for students between ninth and twelfth grades. There is some overlap with the Middle School collection, as readers transition from one area to the other.

Selection: Titles are geared toward the casual or reluctant reader. Subjects that are covered by this collection are both recreational and informational in tone. Reference titles are considered, but the collection as a whole should serve as a popular collection more than a reference one.

No duplication occurs in this collection, unless a title has also been purchased by the Reference Department for the Adult Nonfiction Collection. There is limited space available for these titles. All sources are used for selection. Adult nonfiction titles that have crossover appeal for young adults are also considered for purchase, but selectors will attempt to avoid duplication.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. As with other nonfiction collections at the Library, as certain subjects become less popular among patrons, titles in those areas may become candidates for withdrawal

READER SERVICES

PRINT COLLECTION

The Reader Services print collection is used by patrons ages sixth grade through adult. It is divided into various genres including Fiction, Mystery, and Science Fiction.

Duplication of titles varies between each area of the print collection. Titles are duplicated according to patron demand as expressed by holds as well as by the judgment of professional staff, who select print materials based on a combination of quality and anticipated patron demand.

Most of the materials in the Reader Services book collection are ordered from the following standard selection sources: Publishers Weekly, Kirkus Reviews, Booklist, Library Journal, publisher and vendor catalogs, and professional bibliographies. Staff also used websites like Edelweiss; Netgalley; Goodreads and email newsletters from publishers. Consideration is also given to patron requests by Park Ridge Public Library cardholders.

Weeding is an ongoing process in the print collection of the Reader Services Department. Multiple copies of titles once purchased to meet high demand are later culled to a more reasonable number. Books that are worn or badly damaged are withdrawn from the collection and replaced with new copies, only if the titles are determined to be useful to our patrons and the collection as a whole. Printed materials with little or no circulation and little anticipated demand are also considered for withdrawal.

Below are the various areas of the Reader Services print collection and the guidelines for evaluating each area:

GENERAL FICTION

The General Fiction collection is located in the Adult Fiction Collection stacks on the second floor of the Library. These books, which begin their circulation in the New Book Area and then move into the Fiction stacks after six months, may see a drop-off in circulation without continued marketing. In order to give the titles better visibility, Reader Services staff promote them through ongoing displays, booklists, book discussions, the Preferred Author List program, e-newsletters, social media, and word-of-mouth marketing. Continued demand is seen on current as well as older titles, especially those by well-known authors.

Selection: This collection represents a combination of titles with literary merit and those that are in high demand by popular authors (regardless of their critical reviews). Multiple copies of books by popular authors and book discussion favorites are purchased and maintained until demand wanes. Copies of popular fiction books are purchased at a 4:1 hold to copy ratio. The number of subscribers to individual authors on the Preferred Author List as well as other patron holds inform the number of copies of popular fiction titles that are purchased.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Because of space constraints and a desire to remain relevant to the needs of the community, added care is taken to weed multiple copies of titles that are no longer popular.

PREFERRED AUTHOR LIST PROGRAM TITLES

The Preferred Author List Program is a service for Park Ridge Public Library cardholders. Patrons may select their favorite authors from a list of over 340 authors, and we then automatically place holds on that author's new titles for them. Most Preferred Author List authors are bestselling authors in their particular genre.

Selection: Generally, for every four patrons who are on the list for an author, one copy of a book is purchased. The Preferred Author List itself is used as one of the main sources for selection of materials by popular authors. Other sources including professional journals and online sources like Fantastic Fiction are also utilized.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Multiple copies of titles once purchased to meet high patron demand are later culled to a more reasonable number (usually one or two copies).

MOST WANTED LIST – FICTION

The Most Wanted List Fiction Collection is a short-term, high-demand collection. Titles are first-come, first served – no holds are permitted. Most Wanted titles are acquired to fill either an anticipated demand (determined by publicity and number of copies printed) or a demand determined by patron reserves. Most titles on the Top 10 of the New York Times Fiction Bestseller List have multiple copies on the Most Wanted shelves. Any title we own in the Most Wanted collection is also owned in the regular collection.

Selection: The Most Wanted List Fiction Collection is designed to be a browseable collection. In contrast to titles in the 14 Day Collection that are purchased according to a specific formula (ratio of holds to copies), titles in the Most Wanted Fiction Collection are purchased on a case-by-case basis, with the number of patron holds taken into account. All sources are used for selection.

Weeding: Weeding guidelines for the Most Wanted List Collection are different than in other areas of the Reader Services Print Collection. Titles in this collection remain in the New Book Area for no longer than six months. Once the demand for titles in the collection wanes, these items are either withdrawn and donated to the Friends or added to the Adult Fiction Collection.

MOST WANTED LIST – NON-FICTION

The Most Wanted List Non-Fiction Collection is a short-term, high-demand collection. Titles are first-come, first served – no holds are permitted. Most Wanted List Non-Fiction titles are acquired to fill either an anticipated demand (determined by publicity and number of copies printed) or a demand determined by patron reserves. Some titles on the Top 10 New York Times Non-Fiction Bestseller List have multiple copies on the Most Wanted shelves. Any title we own in the Most Wanted collection is also owned in the regular collection.

Weeding: Weeding guidelines for the Most Wanted List Collection are different than in other areas of the Reader Services Print Collection. Titles remain in the collection for no longer than six months. Once the demand for titles in the collection wanes, items are withdrawn and donated to the Friends or added to the Adult Nonfiction Collection.

MYSTERIES

The Mystery section of the Adult Fiction Collection is separated from the General Fiction collection and consists of books with strong elements of detection – not thrillers and suspense titles (e.g., books by James Patterson, John Grisham), which are shelved with General Fiction. Special consideration is given to purchasing series titles and retaining all titles within the series.

Selection: The Mystery collection is an in-depth section of the Reader Services print collection. It features books with good to favorable reviews, books by popular and classic authors, and past and present books within a series.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Added care is taken to maintain and preserve backlist items, which results in ongoing rebinding and/or replacement.

SCIENCE FICTION

The Science Fiction section of the Adult Fiction Collection encompasses both Science Fiction and Fantasy titles.

Selection: Emphasis is placed on items that are part of a series as well as those receiving excellent critical reviews. Media tie-ins and popular authors are given strong consideration.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Due to space constraints, the collection is weeded annually or as space is needed. Every attempt is made to have all books in a series. However, if books in a particular series do not circulate particularly well, the entire series may be weeded.

SHORT STORIES COLLECTIONS BY MULTIPLE AUTHORS

This small, basic collection of short story anthologies is located in a separate area within the Adult Fiction Collection stacks. Short story collections written by one author are interfiled with General Fiction.

Selection: Because of low patron demand for short story anthologies, purchasing is limited to titles with excellent reviews, notable authors, and subject matter that will be relevant to our patrons' needs.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Titles are weeded annually, or as space is needed. Care is taken to preserve titles within the Best American Short Stories series.

LARGE PRINT BOOKS

The Large Print books collection is located in a separate area of the Adult Fiction Collection stacks and consists of both fiction and non-fiction materials.

Selection: Due to space constraints and low number of patron holds, there is limited duplication of titles in Large Print. Most of the popular titles in the Large Print collection are duplicated in regular type in the General Fiction collection. All sources are used for selection, but publisher and vendor catalogs of Large Print materials are particularly helpful, since mainstream journals do not include specific sections for Large Print.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Every attempt is made to replace or preserve damaged titles by re-binding them.

GENERAL PAPERBACKS FOR ADULTS

Reader Services maintains a small browsing collection of mass market paperbacks. Core collection titles purchased in this format because they are no longer available in hardcover are placed on the General Fiction shelves rather than in this area. Trade paperbacks are interfiled in the fiction and mystery sections.

ADULT GRAPHIC NOVELS

The Adult Graphic Novel collection is one of the newer print collections in the Reader Services Department. This collection is located in the Adult Fiction Collection stacks in a separate area and consists of graphic novels and manga titles that have content (i.e., adult subjects, graphic violence, and profanity) that render them more appropriate for an adult audience than for teenagers. A young adult graphic novel collection is housed separately in the Teen Loft on the 3rd floor.

Selection: Due to space constraints, purchasing for the Adult Graphic Novel collection is limited. Duplicate copies are rarely purchased. The collection is nonetheless more than basic –it is a good core collection that is actively growing. Selectors purchase books with favorable reviews and also consider popular authors/artists, media tie-ins, and patron input, with special attention paid to books that are part of a series. In addition to regular sources, selectors utilize online resources such as Amazon.com and Diamond Bookshelf.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply, with attention paid to condition. Every effort is made to maintain the continuity of titles in a series.

BOOK DISCUSSION SETS

The Adult Book Discussion set collection is a growing collection. These titles are purchased with community book clubs in mind (our staff facilitates book club ordering for 70 Park Ridge book groups). Ten copies of each title are purchased and they are almost always in paperback format. When the books are not in use by book clubs, they are available for patrons to check out. This is a very popular collection for browsing.

Selection: The majority of the titles purchased are in paperback. The book club coordinators take note of titles that clubs request and pass them along to the selector. We also choose books based on awards, popularity, and their likelihood of sparking discussion.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Book club coordinators take note of sets that have damaged copies and weigh whether to replace them. If a set is no longer popular, it is weeded. This is continually monitored as we do have space constraints.

READER SERVICES REFERENCE SOURCES

Items in this small, non-circulating collection are located in the Adult Services office.

Selection: Materials in this collection are designed to provide professional assistance to the staff in the areas in which they operate (e.g., reader's advisory, outreach, audiovisual reference, young adult services, etc.). These titles are not able to be checked out by patrons nor do they generally go out to other libraries through Interlibrary Loan.

Although the collection is small, it is kept up-to-date. Titles are not duplicated, unless Youth or Reference Services also purchases a copy for their reference collections. All sources are used for selection, but publisher catalogs (e.g., ALA, Libraries Unlimited) and professional magazines (e.g., Library Journal, Booklist) are particularly helpful.

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. The increased availability of online reader's advisory tools has made it possible to weed more aggressively in this collection.

ADULT EASY READERS

This small, basic collection is geared toward new adult readers and those learning English as a second language. All sources are used for selection, but publishers' catalogs and recommendations from other librarians and specialists are particularly helpful

Weeding: General weeding guidelines apply. Since this collection is not growing at a rapid pace, many of the titles are retained even if they have low circulation statistics.

AUDIOVISUAL COLLECTIONS

The Reader Services audiovisual collection is used by patrons of all ages, with an intended audience of sixth grade through adults, depending on the particular format and/or title. Materials are divided into separate areas by format and/or genre for easy browsing. Titles in certain areas of the collection are duplicated based on patron demand (as expressed by holds) as well as by the judgment of professional staff, who select audiovisual materials based on a combination of quality and anticipated and recorded patron demand. For every five patron holds on an item, an additional copy is purchased for the collection.

Most of the materials in the audiovisual collection are ordered from publisher and vendor catalogs and specialty publications. Standard selection sources – Publishers Weekly, Booklist, and Library Journal – are helpful but often limited in sections describing audiovisual materials. Great consideration is also given to requests by Park Ridge Public Library cardholders. Movies that are rated G, PG, PG-13, and R will be purchased, and careful consideration will be given to unrated films. Titles rated NC-17 are not purchased.

Weeding is an ongoing process in the audiovisual collection of the Reader Services Department. Space constraints are the primary reasons for weeding audiovisual materials, although damaged, duplicated, or outdated materials are also withdrawn. Materials that are worn or badly damaged are withdrawn from the collection and replaced with new copies if and only if the titles are determined to be useful to our patrons and the collection as a whole. Titles with little or no circulation and little anticipated demand are also considered for withdrawal. Multiple copies of titles once purchased to meet high demand are regularly reduced to two to three copies.

The Reader Services audiovisual collection includes the following collections:

- New DVDs
- Feature Films
- Foreign Language DVDs
- Nonfiction DVDs
- TV shows
- Blu-rays
- 4K Blu-rays
- Adult Anime
- Movie Marathon collections (these are themed sets of 5-6 movies that are together in one case and circulate for two weeks)
- Playaways (fiction and nonfiction)
- Books on CD (fiction and nonfiction)
- Adult Video Games
- Music CDs

EXPLORATION LIBRARY

This is a collection of nontraditional items including telescopes; a backyard movie bundle (17 ft. inflatable screen, DVD player, and projector); robots; giant lawn games; Go Pro camera; handheld scanner, and more. Adult Services is responsible for the circulation and maintenance of the collection. Items are stored and checked out by Patron Services.

ELECTRONIC COLLECTION

The Adult Services electronic collection encompasses online resources that are used by patrons of all ages, with an intended audience of sixth grade through adults, depending on the particular collection area and/or title.

Reader Services-related resources in the electronic collection are selected based on perceived value in terms of price, relevance to users' needs and interests, and the ease of use.

Below are the various areas of the Adult Services electronic collection:

- eBooks (providers include OverDrive/Libby; Axis360; and Hoopla)
- audiobooks (providers include OverDrive/Libby; Axis360; and Hoopla)
- Downloadable music (Hoopla)
- Downloadable movies (Kanopy)
- Digital magazines (OverDrive/Libby and Flipster)

REFERENCE AND INFORMATION SERVICES

PRINT COLLECTION

The print collection serves grades seven through adult. The collection descriptions below include both reference and circulating non-fiction print. The collection is classified by the Dewey Decimal System. Reference titles tend to be overviews of information such as general and subject specific dictionaries and encyclopedias. Circulating print is selected for either longer informational content and/or leisure reading.

Selection sources for the Reference Department include Library Journal, Booklist, Kirkus Reviews, Publishers Weekly and various bibliographies and professional booklists. Patron requests are another source for selection of titles.

Books are weeded when they are damaged or worn and are replaced as needed on a regular basis. Out of date materials are replaced with newer materials on various subjects. Older editions of most reference books are withdrawn or put into the circulating collection. Books that have low circulation for a determined number of years are periodically examined and weeded to make room for newer materials. Most areas are weeded on a three to four year cycle unless noted more frequently below.

PERIODICAL COLLECTION

The periodical collection consists of mostly general titles serving seventh grade through adult. It includes magazines, newspapers, and newsletters as well as professional journals primarily for staff use.

Weeding: Storage space for back issues of periodicals is restricted with most issues limited to the storage space with the current issue. Due to lack of space and limited demand, most periodicals are retained for one to two years. Some titles with historical importance are retained longer. When a title ceases publication, the past issues will be weeded if the subject matter is obsolete, in low demand, or if it can be readily found in other sources. Newspapers are retained from one month to one year

MICROFILM COLLECTION

Our microfilm collection consists of the Chicago Tribune and the Park Ridge newspapers. Microfilm format includes full image, all content and long shelf life.

Selection: We only get the Chicago Tribune in digital “microfilm” format and the Park Ridge Herald Advocate in microfilm format. We send the Park Ridge Herald Advocate out yearly to be converted to a microfilm format. Through our magazine databases we have access to hundreds of periodical titles. No multiple copies, however our local newspapers are a copy with the original stored in a vault kept by the company that produces the microfilm.

Weeding: Our microfilm collection is stored in four cabinets. At this time we retain the Chicago Tribune from 1986 to 2009 in microfilm and continuing years in digital format, and the local newspaper. We will continue to monitor use.

DATABASE COLLECTION

The online databases serve to complement, duplicate, or replace some content in the print and microfilm collections. The databases grew from online periodical databases to include specialized databases on a variety of topics. Our subject databases include content on business and investments, science, foreign languages, genealogy, health, biography and literature.

Selection: In addition to reviews from professional journals and online sources, staff demo and evaluate new databases. There are several considerations when considering adding a new database such as lease or purchase, subject matter already covered or offering some unique component, search features not available in print, pricing, ease of use, remote access and intended audience. Some of these resources have replaced print reference resources while others are unique in their electronic format.

Weeding: The databases are usually renewed annually. Throughout the year and at renewal time the use statistics are considered as well as the renewal price and other available resources. With leased resources the entire database or a module may not be renewed but content is usually added and not removed from any databases that we continue to lease.

LOCAL HISTORY DIGITAL COLLECTION

Our digital collection was established in 1998 through a grant from the Illinois State Library and the North Suburban Library System. Rare materials that previously would be available only in the library at special request, due to the possibility of damage or loss, are now available to everyone with an internet connection. Our content is available on the Illinois Digital Archives site www.idaillinois.org which is maintained by the Illinois State Library. Currently our digital history includes a digitized collection of index cards and newspaper articles about local servicemen gathered by the Mel Tierney American Legion Post during World War II, two print histories, Orvis F. Jordan's 1961 "A History of Park Ridge" and "The History of Park Ridge, 1841-1926." The newest collection, "Pieces of Park Ridge," contains photographs and other memorabilia from Park Ridge businesses, community organizations, government and citizens.

Selection: Items are scanned and cataloged and made accessible for viewing through the home page of our website. Items to be scanned are chosen for their relevance to the Park Ridge community, by their clearance of any known copyright restrictions and for their unique value. The process of scanning and entering data is involved and sometimes changes with updates to the software. This limits the amount of digitization we can complete.

Weeding: There is presently no reason to weed this collection.

LOCAL HISTORY COLLECTION

The local history collection was established as a Bicentennial project to provide a centralized source for material relating to the history of Park Ridge, Maine Township, the Chicago metropolitan area, and the State of Illinois. The collection includes the following types of materials: books and pamphlets concerning the geographical areas outlined above; local city and telephone directories, yearbooks of local schools; local memorabilia, maps of the area, photographs of people, places and events important in Park Ridge history, recorded media of local history.

Selection: For local history there are challenges related to what to save and what is saved by other institutions and organizations in the area. There is also the question of what has sufficient lasting historical interest to merit the required space. There is more content being offered online and also less material being printed. Very little is printed in book form related to Park Ridge. We have annual copies of the phone books, Haines Criss-Cross directories and high school yearbooks. We collect pamphlets, articles, photos and other ephemera dealing with Park Ridge. We also attempt to collect information on important Park Ridge citizens such as Hillary Rodham Clinton. We collect limited historical titles on Chicago and local histories of surrounding communities.

Weeding: Only if it does not meet the criteria of the collection.

ALA LIBRARY BILL OF RIGHTS

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.

II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.

IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.

V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.

VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

VII. All people, regardless of origin, age, background, or views, possess a right to privacy and confidentiality in their library use. Libraries should advocate for, educate about, and protect people's privacy, safeguarding all library use data, including personally identifiable information.

Adopted June 19, 1939, by the ALA Council;
amended October 14, 1944; June 18, 1948; February 2, 1961;
June 27, 1967; January 23, 1980; January 29, 2019.
Inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 23, 1996.

ALA FREEDOM TO READ STATEMENT

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

ALA FREEDOM TO VIEW STATEMENT

The FREEDOM TO VIEW, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore these principles are affirmed:

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.
5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

This statement was originally drafted by the Freedom to View Committee of the American Film and Video Association (formerly the Educational Film Library Association) and was adopted by the AFVA Board of Directors in February 1979. This statement was updated and approved by the AFVA Board of Directors in 1989.
